

School Girls; Or, The African Mean Girls Play

Content Warning and Support Resources

School Girls; Or, The African Mean Girls Play* is an award-winning comedy written by Jocelyn Bioh. It follows the lives of six young teenage girls in a prestigious Boarding School in Ghana. While the play is a comedy, this performance contains subject matter that some audiences may find challenging or upsetting.

The play explores content and themes including: colourism, body-shaming, disordered eating, racism and dangerous beauty practices.

This performance will feature haze and may include strobe like lighting effects.

If you would like to know more about the play, and any specific themes that are particularly upsetting to you, please call us on 020 8741 6822 or email tickets@lyric.co.uk

RESOURCES

Here is a list of some resources to help signpost to organisations that provide expert support, information and advice. If there is a useful resource missing from our list, please let us know.

BEAT - support for disordered eating.

MIND - support for disordered eating.

BAATN - support for colourism and racism

BLACK MINDS MATTER - support for colourism and racism